One of the great things about the community are the variations of styles as well as neverending content to dig through. Even as fast as I am at illustrating - it's easy to spread yourself thin. One week, when I had extra time, I thought what it would be like for a regular guy. In space. Returning to a planet that was Prank Call themed. Nevermind the apes, here are the cacti! No heroes or superpowers in this multiverse, just chaos and nonsense. Enjoy!
